

CHARLES WILSON - (1821-1877)

Charles Wilson was born on August 31, 1821 in Stockholm, Sweden and earning his living at sea. He was certified as a Master Mariner, thereby having no limits. It is the highest level of professional qualification among mariners.

Charles married CHRISTINE ROBERTSON on May 5, 1860 in Singapore. Christine was born in Dundee, Scotland on September 29, 1832. The couple would have three children born in Singapore, MARY CHRISTINE, born Jan. 30, 1863, ELIZABETH ANN, born September 15, 1864, and CHARLES HENRY, born March 16, 1866. (India Select Births and Baptisms 1786-1947)

The family settled in Petaluma, Sonoma County, California about 1868. The 1870 Census enumerated them at a B Street residence. Another child was born January 23, 1873 known only as J. A. Wilson. He died at age four on September 29, 1877 and was buried in Cypress Hill Memorial Cemetery, Petaluma. Charles died two weeks later on March 15, 1877 in Petaluma at the age of 56. (obituaries - Petaluma Weekly Argus, 3-30-1877, p 8, col 2 and Sonoma Democrat, 4-4-1877, p 8 col 2) He was buried in Cypress Hill Memorial Cemetery. Christina continued to live at 819 B Street until her death at age 86 on March 9, 1919, due to complications after breaking her hip. (Obituary - Press Democrat, 3-11-1919, p 3 col 2) She was buried with her husband in Cypress Hill Memorial Cemetery.

MARY CHRISTINA WILSON married JOSEPH CARLTON BURNHAM (1847-1919) on June 12, 1884. (Marriage Record Book I, p 106) They settled in Ukiah, Mendocino County, California. She died on December 18, 1931 in Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California. She was buried in Ukiah Cemetery, Ukiah, California.

ELIZABETH ANN WILSON never married. She continued to live at 819 B Street employed as a dressmaker for private families. She died sometime after 1930.

CHARLES HENRY WILSON was described as a harness maker in the 1888 Sonoma County Voter Registration. He married FREDA M. CLEMENSEN on June 18, 1900. (Sonoma County Marriage License Affidavits) Freda had been born in Denmark on June 13, 1871 and came to America in 1873. According to the 1910 Census, Charles and family were living at 217 Seventh Street, Petaluma, California. Charles was employed as a harness maker. Two children had been born, CHARLES CLEMENSEN, born April 14, 1901, and HULDA C., born September 27, 1904. Charles remained a harness maker until his retirement about 1930. The 1930 Census of Sonoma County listed an adopted son, RAYMOND WILSON, age 10. Charles died suddenly of a heart attack on November 23, 1932. He was buried in Cypress Hill Memorial Park, Petaluma, California. (Obituary- Santa Rosa Press Democrat, 11-26-1932, p 2 col 3)

CHARLES CLEMENSEN WILSON died on July 5, 1919 at age 18 by drowning in the Russian River at the town of Monte Rio in Sonoma County. He was assistant Scout Master of the Petaluma Scouts. Flags were flown at half staff in his honor and over 300 Boy Scouts, from Sonoma and other nearby counties, marched in the funeral procession escorting his remains. He was buried in Cypress Hill Memorial Cemetery. (Articles and Obituary-Press Democrat, 7-8-1919, p7 col 1; 7-9-1919, p3 col 5; 7-10-1919, p2 col 1)

Master mariner

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

A Master Mariner or MM is the professional qualification required for someone to serve as the person in charge or person in command of a commercial vessel. In England, the term Master Mariner has been in use at least since the 13th century, reflecting the fact that in guild or livery company terms, such a person was a master craftsman in this specific profession (e.g. Master Carpenter, Master Blacksmith, etc. [2] (http://www.hcmm.org.uk/index.php?option=com\_content&view=article&id=9&Itemid=16)). In the United States, the term was introduced in the mid-19th century.

United Kingdom

In the UK, the term "Master Mariner" is reserved only for those who hold an unlimited master's certificate. The term "unlimited" (often referred to as unrestricted) indicates that there are no limits on size, power or geographic location on the certificate. It is the highest level of professional qualification amongst mariners and Deck Officers in the British Merchant Navy. The Extra Master's qualification, which was discontinued in the 1990s, used to be the highest professional qualification and it was the pinnacle for any mariner to achieve. There are also various other levels of Master's certificates, which may be restricted or limited to Home Trade/Near Coastal Voyages and/or by gross tonnage. The holder of a restricted Master's certificate is not referred to as a "Master Mariner".

In the British Merchant Navy a Master Mariner who has sailed in command of an oceangoing merchant ship will be titled Captain. A professional seafarer who holds a restricted or limited Master's certificate who has sailed in command of a ship (i.e. appropriate to the size, power or geographic limits of their certificate) can also be titled Captain.

An unrestricted master's certificate is colloquially called a "Master's Ticket" or a "Master's." It is sometimes still referred to as a "Class 1" or "Master Foreign-Going" as it was named during the latter part of the 20th century. The conventions or acts governing the certificate have evolved alongside the shipping industry and the official name of a Master Mariner's qualification has varied over the years. The UK Maritime & Coastguard Agency, in-line with the amended STCW convention,<sup>[1]</sup> currently title the certificate Master Unlimited.<sup>[2]</sup>

United States

A Master Mariner license comes rated for the maximum gross tonnage of vessel that license-holder is allowed to operate with the highest being a license for "any gross tonnage", colloquially referred to as "unlimited". Additionally, the licenses come with restrictions as to what waters the officer is allowed to operate on (inland, coastal, oceans). An unlimited tonnage ocean license is the highest level license attainable.[3] (<http://www.uscg.mil/nmc>) A Master Mariner who has sailed in command of a commercial vessel is given the title and the appellation of Captain. Also, in common usage anyone who has achieved any USCG master's license commonly refers to themselves as "Captain", regardless of limitations on that license or lack of commercial or command experience.

PETALUMA, Nov. 26 — Charles H. Wilson, retired harness maker and prominent in the Odd Fellows lodge, dropped dead Wednesday afternoon while sitting up a window seat at a home in Seventh street. Wilson had been in poor health until six months ago, when he suffered a heart attack.
Born aboard ship at Singapore,
West Indies, Wilson was 66 years old. Several years ago he disposed of his harness making business to A. W. Budd. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge for 39 years
and served as recording secretary for 20 years. At the time of his death he was the lodge treasurer.
He had served on the general committee of the grand lodge for 32

representatives, considered yesterday
with Rolland Vandegrift, director of the state department of finance, and Vandegrift declared that his department would authorize the fish and game commission to make a $7,650 deficiency appropriation toward the project. The commission has heretofore announced that it is without funds to invest in the job, pointing out that scores of other items in various parts of the state have made it impossible for the commission to appropriate additional sums to the jetty.

WOULD O. K. FUNDS

"Vandegrift announced yesterday," Slater said, "that if the fish and game commission has no money to spend on the jetty, he will sanction a deficiency appropriation of $7,650 with the understanding that the commission
would reimburse itself out of subsequent revenues."
The commission, Slater added,
has already appropriated some $50,000 toward the job, the total investment of the state being in the neighborhood of $125,000.
Engineer Hyatt declared that the cost of operations on the jetty as far as the present work is concerned, William P. Gregory, in charge of the work, approximately $2,500 monthly. A $5,000 appropriation, it was shown, will enable the protecting work to go until February, which may be sufficient to save the piling.
Orders to stop work have already been issued to Gregory, and are to become effective Wednesday, November 30, when the last appropriation will have been exhausted.

ack on Germany. The German announcement of the new attack on the Reich said that Nazi fighters offered strong resistance to the British bombers.

An interruption of telephone service between Berlin and Stockholm from 7:15 to 8:45 p. m., last night indicated that the German capital may have been raided.

The daylight force was escorted by Thunderbolts, Lightnings and long-range Mustangs, which executed what appeared to be a new tactic of sweeping the target area clean of opposition so that the bombers could make uninterrupted runs.

Less Opposition

Only a few Nazi pilots came up to face their filled-in ranks. First reports from bases indicated that the losses were small.

While there was no immediate announcement of the specific targets, the Nazi-held Pas de Calais area, the so-called "rocket gun coast," appeared to have taken a heavy pounding.

Medium Marauder bombers and RAF, Dominion and Allied medium, light and fighter bombers escorted and covered by RAF, Dominion and Allied fighters joined in the assault.

The new operations followed on RAF Mosquito stab against western Germany Thursday night, the specific objectives of which also were not immediately disclosed.

Even before an announcement was issued on the daylight operations the Hilversum radio left the air, while the German news agency DNB halted broadcasting "for technical reasons," signaling possible early night missions by the RAF.

With the latest attack the Pas de Calais department, which is the closest to England, has been bombed 21 times in 25 days, and in that period has been pounded by 7,000 tons of bombs. This is about half the amount dumped on

He served in that capacity for some time, taking an active part in the battle of St. Mihiel and the Meuse as his discharge papers show. The only mark he has is a broken finger which injury was sustained when he was thrown from his motorcycle on a slippery turn. As soon as the war was over he was sent with the army of occupation and was stationed at Cochem, Germany, until he was sent home last week.

BOY SCOUTS TO BURY COMRADE

Petaluma Will Witness Its First Boy Scout Funeral This Afternoon and There Will Be a Large Assemblage of Scouts Present.

Petaluma will witness today its first Boy Scouts funeral and it is expected that at least three hundred Boy Scouts will march in parade at the funeral of Charles Wilson Jr., the unfortunate lad who went to his death last Sunday night in the river at Monte Rio. He was assistant scout master of the Petaluma Scouts and at the time of his death had just completed arrangements for the encampment of the Scouts in the Monte Rio section.

There is an encampment of Scouts at Orama in Marin county and they will be present at the funeral in Wednesday afternoon in Petaluma. The full Boy Scouts funeral will be followed at the last rites. The Revs. J. R. Bosie and Dr. Ray assisting as chaplains.

It has been a long time since the city of Petaluma has been so profoundly stirred by a death, especially by the death of an eighteen year old boy. Tends to show that that lad must have won the hearts of young and old in Petaluma. He had the reputation of being a Christian lad and one who took deep interest in the welfare of his fellow scouts. He was therefore a true Scout.

Mrs. A. R. Hardy and Mrs. B. B. Smith of Lansing, Mich., are here for a short visit.
W. G. Stewart of Monte Rio spent Tuesday night here.

MYSTERIOUS PAINS AND ACHES

Make Life Hard to Bear for Many Santa Rosa Women
Too many women mistake their pains and aches for troubles peculiar to the sex. More often disordered kidneys are causing the aching back, dizzy spells, headaches and irregular menses. Kidney weakness becomes dangerous if neglected. Use a time-tried kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. Hosts of people testify to their merit. Read a Santa Rosa case:

BOY SCOUTS ARE GUARD OF HONOR AT HIS FUNERAL

Wonderfully Kind Demonstration Witnessed at the Laying to Rest in Petaluma Wednesday of Charlie Wilson, Who Lost His Life in the River at Monte Rio and Who Was One of the Scouts Heads in That City.

With a band of fifty pieces playing a dirge and escorted by several hundred Boy Scouts the funeral procession escorting the mortal remains of Charles Wilson Jr. much loved Petaluma Boy Scout assistant scoutmaster of the organization there made a touching incident of the afternoon in Petaluma Wednesday and formed a remembrance that will be lasting. Young Wilson lost his life in the river near Monte Rio last Saturday night just after he had completed the arrangements for the Boy Scouts' encampment at Monte Rio which was to have been inaugurated the day after he was drowned.

In paying the last tribute of esteem the Petaluma Scouts were augmented by two hundred Scouts from San Francisco and the bay cities many of whom camping in Marin county were brought to the funeral to add to the testimonial of esteem for the dead youth.

Several trucks were necessary to carry the wonderful tribute of floral offerings. The tragic manner of the death and the love borne the deceased were reflected in the number of floral pieces.

Assisting the Boy Scout officers in the funeral rites which were according to the Scout ritual were the Boys P. A. Mainwaring and Dr. Ray ministers who have taken much interest in the Scout movement.

If his kindly traits and the example set by Charlie Wilson in the teachings of the Boy Scout code are followed by those lads with whom he was brought in contact then his life will not have been lived in vain.

Turner Made New Record for Franklin

When Stanley S. Turner drove a Franklin stock touring car to a triple victory in the third annual renewal of the Los Angeles-Yosemite economy road race, he not only made a clean sweep of the prize list but again proved that the Franklin is economically superior to other makes either heavier or lighter in weight than the Franklin.

A Record Made by Mason Cord Tires

Walter H. Nagle has received advice of the record made by the Mason Cord tires in the Indianapolis speedway races. They were on the machine that won fifth place in the race and made the entire 500 miles without a change. Such running is equal to 20,000 miles of ordinary driving. Mr. Nagle returned from San Francisco Tuesday evening where he placed another large order for both the cord and fabric Mason tires for his place of business on Mendocino avenue.
